to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y. now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness, and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infalible for stomach, liver, kidneys, blood and nerves. 50c at all druggists.

More Than Enough is Too Much
To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. This habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by all dealers.

SOUTHWEST IS FACING SERIOUS TURKEY FAMINE

TIME HONORED "PIECE DE RESISTANCE" SCARCE THIS YEAR

PRICES LIKE ALTITUDE

These Promise to Go Soaring About Thanksgiving Time—Other Poultry is Plentiful and So are Fruits, Nuts and Pumpkins—A Good Feed is Assured, Anyway.

Thanksgiving dinners in Las Vegas this year will be provided as cheaply as ever, say the local wholesale dealers, but the items on the bill of fare will have to be somewhat varied from the time-honored list. The usual "piece de resistance" the Thanksgiving turkey, will be worth somewhere near his weight in gold, and apples will be fruit for the plutocrat only. Chickens, however, should be available at prices in reach of everyone, and cranberries can be had almost for the asking.

Although it is a little bit too early to tell exactly the condition of the turkey crop, it is generally understood that it is very short. Texas and Oklahoma, both of which states usually furnish a very large number of turkeys, report a much smaller number than usual at all points. Very few flocks of any size have been heard of in this locality and there can be little doubt but that the prices will soar heavenward as soon as the Thanksgiving demand begins.

Chickens, on the other hand, promise to be plentiful. The supply of eggs has kept up much later than usual already and has prevented the marketing of more than a very few hens thus far. This will mean a large number of chickens to come onto the market just about the Thanksgiving season, which should mean a price within the reach of the most economical.

The early reports of a shortage in the cranberry crop have been disproved, and the supply is probably larger than for several years. This will mean lower prices on this favorite sauce from now on. Apples are everywhere scarce and will be a luxury all winter. Other fruits which are shipped in will range at just the same prices as have ruled in former years.

The nut crop is reported as rather short. This never has had any appreciable effect on the price of nuts, however, and it is said that most of the imported nuts will sell at the usual range of prices. English walnuts are somewhat higher and pecans probably more plentiful and cheaper. The festive pumpkin, which is always supplied direct from the farmers themselves, will be available for the manufacture of the last course on the menu. The crop is perhaps a trifle short, but there is always a large quantity of this "fruit" fed to cattle and hogs anyhow, so the price will be about the same as usual and the cows will have to go short if necessary.

At this rather early date, therefore, it appears that everyone will be able to provide most of the usual extras for the national feast, and it is safe to say that the Las Vegas tables will be as well supplied as any in the land.

Both Boys Saved

Louis Boon, a leading merchant of Norway, Mich., writes: "Three bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar absolutely cured my boy of a severe cough, and a neighbor's boy, who was so ill with a cold that the doctors gave him up, was cured by taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Nothing else is as safe and certain in results. O. G. Schaefer and Red Cross Drug Co.

AT THE THEATRE

A Great Entertainment

"Great, the best magician and hypnotist ever seen in Las Vegas," was the verdict of those who went to the Duncan opera house last night to witness the initial performance of McEwen, the Great. Manager Duncan had claimed that McEwen would surprise theatre-goers by presenting new and original features in his line of entertainment, and this prediction came to pass last night. Without a doubt, McEwen is the very best entertainer of his kind ever seen in this city, and if he does not draw crowded houses tonight and tomorrow night, it will be because the people of this city will not go to a good show, preferring to take in a poor attraction and kick, than to go to a good one and praise it.

Because of the smallness of his audience last night, Mr. McEwen was adverse to making an appearance, and did so only on the urging of Manager Duncan, who did not want to disappoint those who were there. Having just finished an engagement of some weeks in Denver, Mr. McEwen and his company were booked by a theatrical syndicate to play a series of engagements at several of the smaller cities in the southwest, but as he himself expressed it last night, his tour thus far had been a keen disappointment, for the people had failed to turn out. He has always appeared on the larger circuits, where he is in the habit of making more in one night than he will make in the southwest in six months.

Space forbids the detailing of the tricks of McEwen or his wonderful feats of mesmerism. He puts on a high class show that not only astounds his audience, but also convulses it. His show is clean. He does not resort to anything sensational or in the least out of place in hypnotizing, as is usually the case with so-called hypnotists who have been in Las Vegas before. His tricks of mesmerism are ludicrous and entertaining and cannot help but make the audience laugh.

As has already been said, Mr. McEwen will be here tonight and tomorrow night, and anyone who fails to see his show is missing a great treat that may never be their's to again enjoy. A change of program of both the magic and hypnotic part of his exhibition will be made tonight. Not the least pleasing feature of the entertainment is the singing of Mrs. McEwen between the first and second acts. Mrs. McEwen possesses a voice of rare volume and sweetness and was forced to respond to several encores last night.

The advance sale of seats today indicated a capacity house tonight, and it is safe to say that those who were there last night will be on hand again tonight, and that those who go tonight will be there tomorrow night. To go once is to go every night, for the lure of the mysterious and love for fun is irresistible.

CORINNE IN "MLLE MISCHIEF"

THIS EXTRAVAGANZA TO BE SEEN AT THE DUNCAN OPERA HOUSE NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT.

Corinne, now a Shubert star, will be seen under her new management at the Duncan opera house next Tuesday night, in the Viennese operetta, "Mlle. Mischief," which the Shuberts have given a splendid production. As sociated with Corinne are a number of well known artists, included in the long list being W. P. Carleton, Paul L. Warren, Frank Farrington, Edward Cutler, Louis Brunelle, Bonnie Farley, Ethel Rose and fifty others, embracing the original pony ballet. "Mlle. Mischief," which is in three acts, has been Americanized by Sydney Rosenfeld, who undertook the commission for the Shuberts. The score is by Ziehrer, the famous American composer. The musical numbers are said to be charming, among some of the more lasting melodies being "Verily, Merryly," "To the Regiment We'll Go," "Sweetheart"
